CMO

CHIEF MARKETING OFFICER
GIÁM ĐỐC MARKETING

Practical Marketing Management to lead trends and achieve business breakthroughs in the digital age

Why are Chief Marketing Officers today facing unprecedented challenges?

In the digital era, Marketing is no longer limited to product promotion, but has become the growth engine that determines the survival of a business. Consequently, the role of the Chief Marketing Officer (CMO) is transforming drastically, requiring a comprehensive management vision to establish a leading market position.

CMOs around the world are rising to prominence

- 83% of global CEOs affirm that Marketing is the primary engine driving business growth (McKinsey & Company).
- 87% of CMOs confirm that their roles have expanded beyond sales, directly contributing to brand value and customer trust (Salesforce).
- "Business has only two basic functions: Marketing and Innovation. Everything else is an expense." - Peter Drucker.
- "In a world obsessed with short-term financial metrics, the CMO is the only one on the executive board holding the company's most valuable 'intangible assets': Customers and the Brand." - Philip Kotler.

However, in Vietnam, CMOs still face many limitations

- The Marketing department is often seen as a cost center rather than a growth-creating team.
- Must create sales breakthroughs in the context of increasingly tightening budgets.
- Unable to measure the actual effectiveness of expenditures.
- The application of technology/AI remains fragmented and inefficient.
- Lack of alignment in goals and data between communication activities and the sales team.

Modern CMOs need to make a spectacular transformation: From an expense manager to a smart investor, from a trend follower to a market leader, and from a purely creative role to management capabilities based on data and technology.

A COMPREHENSIVE SOLUTION FROM PACE'S CMO PROGRAM

Distilled from 25 years of understanding the constant shifts in the market, PACE has designed the "Chief Marketing Officer - CMO" program - a program that is not just a knowledge system, but a journey to help the head of Marketing shape a sharp strategic mindset in the digital age.

The Challenges of Marketing Management Today

- The voice of Marketing is still weak in high-level strategic decisions, often playing only an execution role after the business plan has been finalized.
- Marketing strategy lacks a holistic approach, often getting caught up in short-term tactics (viral, promotions) while neglecting long-term brand value.
- Marketing processes have not been systematically digitized, leading to a waste of resources and difficulties in measuring return on investment (ROI).
- CMOs often get bogged down in operational management, approving daily advertising materials instead of dedicating time to market penetration strategies and new product development.

Comprehensive Solutions from PACE's CMO Program

- Elevate Marketing to a "strategic spearhead" with systematic management thinking, working alongside the CEO to solve business problems.
- Map out a long-term brand development roadmap, ensuring consistency at every customer touchpoint.
- Build an accurate performance measurement system (Marketing Metrics), helping to optimize budgets and make decisions based on real data.
- Develop the leadership capacity of the creative team and build a Customer-Centric culture.
